

RAIN TEMPORARILY ENDS FIGHTING IN WEST.
PARIS, May 20.—On account of torrential rains the lull in fighting along the entire western front continues today.

WHILE the transient population of Daytona and the peninsula cities has dwindled to a few score souls, there are still several thousand permanent residents here. And they have to buy food and clothing and shoes and summer comforts and amusements.

The DAILY NEWS goes into the homes of several hundred families of these people every day except Sunday. And, Mr. Merchant, many of those people expect you to talk to them, through the DAILY NEWS, about the things you want them to buy---and things they WANT to buy.

WASHINGTON'S GOOD PLAN FOR RENTING PENINSULA HOUSES

Suggestions contained in the appended letter from Editor Chris. O. Codrington of the DeLand News seem a practical solution of the problem of finding desirable tenants, for the summer months, for scores of houses in the peninsula towns. To more fully understand the sound logic of Mr. Codrington's proposed plan of action, it is necessary to read his letter to the DeLand News, which follows:

DeLand, Fla., May 19, 1915.
The Daily News:

There are perhaps 200 unoccupied cottages in Daytona Beach and Seabreeze—not an unusual thing for this season of year. Some 1,500 families (estimated) live in DeLand, Sanford, Ormondville, Palatka, Maitis, and other interior towns and go to the beach for two months this summer if the arrangements are made easy for them. A man was in the News this morning and asked me if I knew the cost of a cottage at Daytona Beach for the summer. I did not know.

"Here is my suggestion: Let all the property owners and real estate dealers of Daytona Beach and Seabreeze get together, employ a competent man or woman, list all their property with this one person (who should work on a salary). As soon as this information is ready, let him announce through the DeLand newspapers that he will be in DeLand on a certain day to rent houses on the beach. Let him come to DeLand, open an office for one or two days, see all who call in answer to his advertisement, call upon prospects who do not come to see him, and sign them up for one, two or more months.

"From DeLand he can go to Sanford for two days, to Orlando for two days, etc.

"By this method, I believe that every house in Daytona Beach and Seabreeze can be filled for the entire season. When the cottages are filled, the hotels will be prosperous. And when the coast prospers this side of the county gets its share of the prosperity by absorption.

"Just to prove this idea is not inspired by selfishness—by any desire on my part to secure advertising—the DeLand News will donate ten dollars' worth of advertising to further the scheme; we will also put a desk in our office at the disposal of the representative of the towns and give him the free use of our telephone and the assistance of our office force to further your interests.

"Very truly yours,

"CHRIS. O. CODRINGTON."

The Daily News directs the particular attention of property owners and real estate agents to the features embodied in the fourth and last paragraphs of Mr. Codrington's letter.

Look for the Beautiful.

Never lose an opportunity of seeing anything beautiful. Welcome it in every fair face, every fair sky, every fair flower, and thank him for it who is the fountain of all loveliness and drink it simply and earnestly with all your eyes; it is a charmed draft, a cup of blessing.—Kingsley.

Employment of Time.

"I suppose you know all about railroads, banking and currency and kindred subjects." "No," replied Senator Sorghum. "If I studied all those things I'd have so little time to make speeches that my constituents would think I was neglecting my business."—Washington Star.

Duty.

"The sphere of duty is infinite. It exists in every station of life. We have it not in our choice to be rich or poor, to be happy or unhappy; but it becomes us to do the duty that everywhere surrounds us. Obedience to duty, at all costs and risks, is the very essence of the highest civilized life. Great deeds must be worked for, hoped for, died for, now as in the past.—Selected.

JOS. SCHER RENTS MORE STORE ROOM

Joseph Scher, outfitter for women, who has been located during the season in the south half of the Donnelly building at the corner of Beach street and Volusia avenue, has rented the north half of the building also for use next season. Mr. Scher will close his store in this city about the first of June and go to Narragansett Pier, R. I., where he conducts a similar business during the summer season, catering to the elite of the country at that fashionable resort. Mr. Scher's business is in a class of its own, differing greatly from other businesses here, his special features being suits, gowns and millinery at very popular prices. This was Mr. Scher's first season in Daytona and he is so well satisfied with the patronage accorded him that he has, as stated, arranged for additional room for the display next season of his large stock and will return early in October, he says, with the most beautiful line of women's apparel ever seen in this city. Not only is Mr. Scher more than satisfied with the business he has done the past season, but his patrons are equally well pleased with the purchases made from him.

GOVERNOR NOT SUSTAINED IN REMOVAL PALM BEACH SHERIFF

From Tallahassee comes the announcement that the question of the removal from office of Palm Beach county's sheriff, Geo. B. Baker, has been settled. Mr. Baker will retain his office, the senate committee appointed to sift the evidence in the case having reported that such evidence was not strong enough to warrant Governor Trammell's suspension order in the Baker case, issued some time ago. A special dispatch to the Palm Beach Post stated that Sheriff Baker had been given "a clean bill of health" by the examining committee.

INFORMATION RECEIVED OF DEATH OF WINTER VISITOR

The Daily News and Gazette-News are indebted to H. K. Rogers for information of the death of Mrs. John W. Stewart, who is quite well known in Daytona and vicinity. Mr. Rogers, writing from Point Pleasant, N. J., Sunday, May 16th, stated that he had received word of the death of Mrs. Stewart on Sunday at her home in Mill City, Pa., the cause being given as pneumonia. She was ill for only about week. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were married in this city the winter before last and spent last season here with Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Rhoades at their winter home, Trolecar Bungalow, on Second avenue. Mrs. Stewart, who was a sister of Mrs. Rhoades, had previous to her marriage to Mr. Stewart spent a number of seasons here with Dr. and Mrs. Rhoades and her death will be learned with regret by friends in this city and vicinity. Reducing the Cost of Upkeep—

Ball Bearing; Long Wearing

is invariably followed by the discovery that the bills for ribbons are much less than before. A large corporation recently found that its ribbon expense was cut in two. This is not an accident. It is the result of the mechanical construction that makes the L. C. Smith & Bros. cheapest to maintain.

The ball bearings give light touch and eliminate pounding impact. The ribbon is actuated by the carriage, not the typebar. The ribbon mechanism is automatic, so that the ribbon reverses at the instant the end is reached and without added strain.

Low ribbon cost, low cost of maintenance and the highest efficiency—these are guaranteed to L. C. Smith & Bros. users.

DECEASED WAS KNOWN IN THIS CITY—FOR TWO SEASONS HEAD IN CHARGE OF THE CLARENDON HOTEL DRUG STORE.

William O. Woltz, an old and highly esteemed citizen of Jacksonville, who died at his home in that city Tuesday afternoon, after a lingering illness, was known to many residents of Daytona and vicinity, having been in charge, for W. M. Hankins, of the Clarendon drug store during the seasons of 1910-11 and 1911-12.

Funeral services were held at the family residence Wednesday afternoon and the body was taken to Palatka where the final services were held and interment made.

Mr. Woltz is survived by his wife and two daughters, Miss Nina Woltz of Jacksonville and Mrs. Armand L. Chapeau, of Savannah, Ga., and by two sons, Laurence H. Woltz, now of Chicago, Ill., and Herbert A. Woltz, of Jacksonville.

Miss Nina Woltz is one of the society editors of the Metropolis, while Laurence H. Woltz was formerly sporting editor of the Florida Times-Union and is now a member of the sporting staff of the Chicago Examiner.

The family is well known and the many friends learned with sorrow of the death of Mr. Woltz.

William O. Woltz was born at Rocky Mount, Va., in 1850, and came to Florida in 1870, settling in Lake City and later moving to Palatka, where he lived for a number of years. He married Miss Emily Houghton, of Palatka, in December, 1874, and has resided in Jacksonville for the past 25 years.

PORT ORANGE.

PORT ORANGE, May 18.—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stevens who saw Port Orange for the first time last October, left for Jacksonville, Wis., on Saturday. They expect to return early in the fall and occupy the house they purchased this spring of Chris. Suppes.

Mrs. I. J. Wells, Jr., has been quite seriously sick but has been improving for some days.

Victor Sparkman surprised his friends by riding into town recently on a wheel from near Miami.

Moses Hunt and family came up the river some days ago and are occupying their peninsula house opposite Port Orange. They have spent most of the winter at Palm Beach in their house boat.

A. M. Martin accompanied F. M. Townsley in the former's car to Jacksonville and reports the roads in very fair condition. Mr. Martin returned via Hawthorne and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Martin, and called on his sister, Mrs. E. E. Ramsey, as he came through Palatka.

C. J. Vass has removed the fence along the old Smith place to the street line and has cleaned the place up very nicely.

Leon Sparkman has sold his car and is like the proverbial "fish out of water."

The heavy rains injured some of the gardens; the sudden change from the extremely hot dry weather was more than some truck could stand.

The many friends of our fellow (winter) townsman J. C. Henderson, will regret to learn that he has been quite seriously ill, but at last accounts was improving.

The committee appointed by the council to revise and equalize the assessment of Port Orange property consisting of T. M. Bangs, F. M. Townsley and S. G. Martin, have completed their labors, and the council held a special session on Tuesday night (adjourned from Monday night) to consider and act on their report.

The "Good Times" club was entertained by Mrs. D. E. Lyon, and the host entertained in a way to leave no regrets, and sustained the reputation of the club that its members are good entertainers.

We still have a number of our winter residents with us.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON BY SCHOOL AUDITORIUM COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES EVENING.

The Class Day exercises of the town high school class of 1914 held in the high school auditorium at 2:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, drew a fairly large audience, almost entirely of women and children.

The program, which was a very well executed by Everett Danks, the "Key and Mantle Orations" ably delivered by Winthrop H. Helen Drew, president of the class, made a brave and pleasing response. A bit of pleasant introduction into this part by the mammoth proportions, specially prepared for the occasion by the class. The exercises were conducted by the planting of the tree in school grounds in front of the building, this interesting ceremony conducted by Miss Marion Baker.

The auditorium was decorated with the class colors of red and white, and these colors were also displayed in the flowers banded to the right and left of the stage; red lilies and carnations representing the first and second.

The regular commencement exercises will be held in the high school auditorium at 8:00 o'clock this evening, the three honor orations being delivered by John S. Milligan, Miss Annie Belle McClellan and Capt. Gardner. Dr. Harvey W. Cox, of the Florida State university at Gainesville will deliver the class address.

Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock eighth grade will hold graduation promotion exercises with a program of the principal feature.
